GAMES TODAY.

Washington at St. Louis, Baltimore at Pittsburg. Boston at Louisville. Brocklyn at Cincinnati, Philadelphia at Cleveland. New York at Chicago.

St. Louis, Mo., May 24 .- The two tailnders of the league procession met today for the first time this season The air was chilly and the wind raw, hence the attendance was small. Baseball matters here are in such a chaotic condition that the corporal's guard of attendants did not look for a good game, and they were not disappointed McJames and McGuire of-ficiated for the Senators, and Hart and McFarland for the Browns Bob Emslie umpired. Both pitchers were hit hard, and bases on balls generally resulted in Prown and McGuire beined the home team The latter was especially weak in throwing to second. McJames blew up in the fifth inning, and the much derided Browns began to do business with his drops and curves at so great a rate that be was succeeded in the next inning by Silver King. The St. Louis lad pumped a fine assortment of hot ones into his former comrades and they could do little with at once rightly concluded that the locals were one slump deeper in last hole. Neither of Hartman's fly and Houseman's single | Score: In the fifth McJames went into a trance. He could not find the plate. Two men were given bases and scored on McGuire's poor throws to second. Then Dowd hit for a triple and came home on Hartman's out to right field. Washington jumped ahead in the sixth by scoring four times. They clinched the game in by adding six more runs to their credit. The Browns closed the run-getting in the eighth by two more tallies.

The last half of the game was a free for all scramble for stupid plays on both sides, with some good bitting by the Senators St. Louis

Game of the Series.

Cincinnati, May 24.—The Brooklyns took the second game of the series from the Cincinnatis this afternoon. Although the Reds presented a so-called parched up front, the results cannot be attributed to that fact, as the substitutes played right up to the standard of the position. Bean delayed the game. Schriver made his daily maff of a foul, and it was costly. Score:

SPIDERS TO GO TO ST. LOUIS.

The Cleveland Franchise Will Probably Be Transferred to Buffalo. St. Louis, May 24.-It was stated here tonight that tomorrow J. Frank de Haas Robison and Mr. Stanley Robison, owners of the Cleveland club, will secure the Brown's franchise. Von der Ane's players are bailly demoralized, and the club has been losing heavily as the public refuses to go to the games. If the deal goes through, it is thought that the Cleveland franchise will be transferred to Buffale and that Cleveland will take Buffalo's place in the Eastern League.

DRISCOLL THE CHAMPION

He Wins the Southern Tennis Trophy From Paret.

GEORGETOWN MEN REJOICE

A Game Full of Brilliant Plays Results in Victory for the Local Man-The Winner Off for New England to Seek New Honors in Singles.

Thomas A. Driscoll, the young Westerner who has proved such a factor in all local tennis matches since his first appearance here one year ago, yesterday achieved his greatest triumph by defeating Paret, of New York, and thereby winning the Southern championship in singles. The largest attendance of the tournament was on hand to witness the match, and from the first game to the last the brilliant playing brought forth the most hearty ap-

Georgetown College, of which Driscoll is a student, had a large following on hand, and there is no doubt that the moral support of their enthusiastic demonstrations beiped the winner greatly. There were pretty girls there, too, and they were the most enthusiastic and partisan of all. They not only applauded the good work of the Georgetown collegian, but were st unkind as to exult in the misplays of his The first set of the match was a disap communent to the locals, for Paret won it by the one-sided score of 6-1. There was an orninous silence as point after point went to the New Yorker. Driscoll seemed nervous, and his usually fine placing was at fault, while he frequently smashed the ball into the net.

The second set was different, for Driscoll seemed to regain his nerve with every strike. His placing was excellent, and he displayed great headwork in making Paret do the greater part of the playing. This set finally went to Driscoil by 6-4. ring with their college yells.

The third set was perhaps the best of the match. Driscoll's splendid net work won then point after point, while his recoveries after difficult returns were simply marvelous. Paret also did some excellent placing in this set, but it was plain that he was weskening. Driscoil, on the other hand, grew stronger, and the set finally went to

The dark clouds which had been threa en ing* rain all the afternoon gave signs of jetting down their moisture, and it looked as though the last match would not be finished. However, everybody stayed on to the score of G-4, and thus win the champion ship for the ensuing year. Then the rain came down interrents, and there was a wild scurrying for shelter, but many a dainty apring costume got a sad wetting before its owner could emape the deluge. By defeating Paret, Driscoll won the handsome silver challenge cup of the Southhe will defend each year hereafter. Both Priscoll and Davidson left for New Haven last night, where they will play in the New England championship tourns It is thought that Driscoll stands an excellent chance of winning the championship in singles in this tournament. NEW FIGLAND CHAMPIONSHIP.

To Begin Today on the New Haven Lawn Club's Grounds.

New Haven, May 24.-The annual tennitourpament for the New England championship will begin tomerrow morning or the grounds of the New Haven Lawn Club. Play will be continued both morning and afternoon until Saturday. Arthur E. Foote, the winner of last year's tourna-ment, will not be able to defend his title this year, as he is in France, and the winner of the finals will take the match chanpionship and will held the valuable trophy cup for one year.

Prizes will be given for first place to the runner-up in singles and to the winners of the doubles and a consolation first prize has been added to the list.

Among the leading entries is Thomas A Driscoil, the Georgetown champion and runner-up in the Southern championship tournament last week.

St. Louis Races.

St. Louis, May 24.-Today's results are as follows: First race-Seven furlongs.; Sengmela, 2 to 1, won; Ferris Hartman, second; Horse-Wait until we get 'em off, and then there'il be some scrapping." Just then the first round began, and Fitzsimmons became ex-cited as he saw himself fighting for the championship of the world.

"be you see how I'm forcing him?" he ried. "See him backing away. There

diumons arose and shouted back an angry

As the light went out after the thirteenth round somebody yelled, "Speech."
In an instant the crowd burst into loud theers, and Bob got up and bowed. When he could make himself heard the champion said, in a clear voice:
"Ladies and Gentlemen: Ever since the fight at Carson I baye heard all sorts of talk from Corbett about foul blows and how he was robbed of the fight. He has said. Wait for the pictures, and they will show how I made a monkey of Fitzsimmons.' Well, I've waited for them, and you, yourselves, can see who is the monkey I've forced the fight from the start, and I've fought him fairly, squarely and hogorably. I haven't seen this last round which will be put on in a few minutes, but I'll bet $10,000 that the pictures don't show me hitting a foul. Cornett simply quit, and that's all there is to it. You have seen the pictures, and you can judge better than anybody whether I speak the truth or not. You will also be able to say after the last round whether I won fairly or not, and whether it is my duty to fight this fellow again. In the fight he had the advantage of height and weight, and I was handicapped with a broken thumb, yet I licked him, and licked him good." These remarks were received with great applacise and then the current was turned

"Now, we'll see about this alleged foul blow," said Fitzsimmons. "Look at those walloos I am putting on to his head. Why. he's groggy now. Here's where I nail him on the solar plexus and he loses." As Corbett began to sink Fitzsimm leaped once more to his feet and exclaimed "See. I've moved away from him and his knees are still off the floor. I defy anybody to say I hit him when he was down He's sinking slowly and I'm ten feet away. There's one knee just tonching the floor now. I fouled him, eh? It's a lie, and anybody with half an eye can see that I'm away from him before he is down. If he isn't beaten fairly in that picture, I'll cat my hat."

Fitzsimmons saw the fight through and where Corbett is shown rushing across the stage and trying to hit him he sneered Gentleman Jim," he said, sarcastically "Ont yes, that's very nice "

MENDING BUREAU - Gents' clothes a spe-cialty, 2022 10th st. aw. 14 champloraship of the world.

"Bo you see how I'm forcing him?" he cried. "See him backing away. There goes my right straightfor the stomach; now my left. Whew that was close. He's mich a bit, and goes away. I'll land him, though, later. There's the good old right again, and that's where I busted my thumb."

The champion continued to make comments of this nature, Julian keeping pace with all sorts of sallies, until the sixth round over which there has been so much talk.

At one point, where a manin the gallery called out, "Knock him out, Jim," Fitz-contents to agents. EASTERN Mil-TUALLIFE, Chas. E. Shoemaker, Manager, 1305 F. 8. m.
